This sensitive modern development, on a narrow site in London Road, consists of ten apartments on three floors with one penthouse. It is in contrast to its very conventional and stolid recent neighbours. There is good landscaping front and back. This fine, late 16th century building has seen many changes in its lifetime, and recently has suffered considerable deterioration in its external fabric. It has been renovated and converted to create two houses and two apartments. A worthy exemplar for those restoring historic buildings and adapting them for modern use.

Seamless construction work and design have produced this small extension that appears to be part of the original Victorian Primary School building. A resounding result and a worthy addition this historic village school and St Michael's Street.
